prophecy

on march 22, 1984, put passed away. though the death of the 98 year old history teacher broke the hearts of every ex-senior of morganton high school, his funeral provided morganton with the most gala social function it had ever known. as a final tribute, all his past students flocked back to the old hometown to pay homage to their beloved put, whose loving instruction and dedicated care had shaped and molded each of their lives.

they were drawn like flies from the four corners of the earth. from paris came mrs. laura epeley, who is currently giving bidet demonstrations to the delight of many a dirty old frenchman. this was her first trip back to the states since her elopement many years before. mrs. liz harrill onassis, whose charm, beauty, and youth had finally won aristotle over from the aging and money-hungry jackie, flew in from scorpios, and jane tate rogers left her chain of british riding academies to make the trip with her third husband, roy.

a number of people came down from new york, including "broadway" doug, swinging playboy and nightclub owner, perry lattimore, the metropolitan opera's biggest star, sharon shores, owner of a chain of chic charm schools and health spas, susan bishop and judy hogshead, recently retired rockettes, and gary caldwell and larry brewer of the harlem globe-trotters. from hollywood, too, came quite a few of put's most ardent fans. among these were hodge phillips, who had just finished starring in a remake of "doctor zhivago", his co-stars, deborah kidd and sandra jablonski, stuntman mike connely, who served as hodge's double in the action scenes, and leonard greene, who is starring in the remake of "the graduate". also attending was ann blanton, who has lost all her hair in recent years, and was chosen for the title role in mgm's comedy, "goodbye mr. put", which will co-star susan abshire, as the voluptuous miss scott, bruce braswell, as the intellectual heman, mr. annis, and pam moore, as camera hog mary vann.

tina black came back from nashville where she's presently one of the grand ole opry's biggest attractions. business is so good, she said, that it will soon be time for her to start her own fried chicken place. betty giles, two time winner of the indianapolis 500, drove down from indiana in record time. mike lewis motorcycled down from woodstock nudist camp, where he has proved (or is it proven?) to be one of the camp's most active residents.

a prime attraction of the funeral was the presence of newly-weds robert chapman and his charming (but rapidly rusting) bride, lady bird. the couple had come directly from gaffney after a "quicky" wedding which had followed lyndon's "quicky" funeral the day before.

miss scott left her work at the elegant c'est bon club in charlotte to attend the rites. she was accompanied by her proteges, mary caviness and betsy williams as well as employees of the rival geisha girl club, helen low and teresa lee. miss scott says she will soon give up show business in order to fulfill her lifelong ambition of writing a pronunciation guide of the english language. drs. patrick edmundson and teresa lyle came down from somewhere in wisconsin where they are professors at phraser's physics university. unfortunately, the founder herself was unable to attend as she had finally gone beserk after years of trying to psychoanalyze everyone and everything in sight.

like miss phraser, there were others who were unable to attend the funeral. "abe" padgett had been shot from behind several years before while sitting in the balcony of the mimosa theater, and had died the next day after being carried across the street to the courthouse. (who wouldn't die in that dilapidated rathole!) astronaut alan brown has been sent to the moon to investigate some noisy monolith and doubts he'll be back before the year 2001.

of course, all the local people were there. put's colleagues, the faculty of morganton high, were all very much in evidence, particularly miss florence williams, the basketball coach, mrs. janet salthouse, her assistant, steve simpson, the band director, miss beth goare, director of hallway safety, kathy mooney, school librarian, mike curlee, the football coach and guidance counselor, and miss carol pittman, who has been teaching french ever since her predecessor eloped to paris. the high school drama teacher, miss vicki sellers, was particularly upset, saying what a shame it was that put would miss this year's senior class play, "oh! calcutta" which she thinks he would have especially enjoyed. miss norma seagle, home economics teacher, was in charge of costumes for the production, but found that she has lots of free time on her hands.

lura inscoe, as radiant as ever in her contacts, came accompanied by her brother-in-law, john, since her insanely jealous husband was presently residing at burke county's beautiful seven-story prison, charged with the malicious (and rather messy) murder of dr. r. earl grubb, former president of the university of tennessee. mr. inscoe had come home to find his longtime competitor in the arms of his flirtatious wife.

naturally, mrs. mcneely was there, but no one recognized her with her mouth closed. but, as she explained in a series of frantic gestures, her mouth had died several years before in utter exhaustion.

eric branstrom came rolling in, in a wheelchair, pushed by eric petrie on crutches. the two are co-owners of beech mountain ski resort. mrs. margaret black, who is currently working as a mannequin in burand's front window, made a dramatic entrance, ostentatiously bedecked in numerous wigs and other paraphernalia. she changed clothes several times during the proceedings.

all the middle-age lovebirds were there—tommy and ginger brown, henry and myra liles, edward and barb mills, and bev and connie hairfield. each couple was accompanied by a half a dozen or so hysterical and uncontrollable youngsters.

everyone was clamoring for the autograph of the glamorous ham, mary vann grigg, whose husband had drooled over her from his front row seat every monday and thursday so many years ago.

released especially for the occasion were broughton inmates, daisy robinson, judy shook, lucy walker and mike powell, who attended under careful supervision of nurses jean williams, janice hughes, and cathy short. other inmates, patti tolbert and keith ross, are in solitary confinement since it was considered too much of a risk to expose them to the public.

the funeral itself was an affair to remember! it was held at none other than gregory's deluxe funeral parlor. a solid mahogany coffin was donated by robert connelly, jr. president of drexel enterprises and part-time spanish teacher, and matkin's laundry provided a remarkably clean shroud. the load was carried by pallbearers steve whisnant, editor of the news herald and vice president of the carolina alumni association, t.w. avery, advertising manager for post nasal drip, inc., richard hollifield, swiss bank executive, ronnie kelly, noted nose surgeon and ear exterminator, and dickie feimster, emminent local sot.

music was provided by organist and part-time latin professor, billy covington, whose admiring wife, wendy, turned pages for him. pre-show entertainment was performed by a local all-girl combo, made up of kathy brendle, karen perkins, and sharon simmons, with vocalist hazel peterson, who soon will quit the supremes to have a go at it alone.

reverend william wilson officiated at the service, giving a tear-jerking eulogy of the deceased. attorney thomas jackson, local toolhead, read the will, as his lovely wife, debbie, stood proudly at his side. then, all listened eagerly to dr. catherine harbison's juicy report of the autopsy which she had performed with the assistance of nurses mary pruit, cathy puett, and carol smith, before turning the body over to mr. crisp. she reported that put had been in fine condition until immediately after a brain operation by the noted scatter-brained brain surgeon, dr. paula gee, who thought she was to do an amputation. the highlight of the whole ceremony was mr. crisp's informative presentation of his color slides which illustrated the step-by-step process he had used to preserve the old man for eternity.

following this, the crowd was eager for refreshments. donna ledford provided tons of popcorn in honor of her dead hero, and an abundance of burnt brownies was served by assistant home ec. teacher, sandra bryant. ann ross passed out chewing gum, which she had collected after two days of scraping desks in put's room. drinks were provided through the courtesy of the hicks & hines bottling company, formerly known as the abc store. only then, did everyone realize how much astronaut brown would have enjoyed the occasion. for the teetotalers in the crowd, mr. crisp served leftover embalming fluid.

soon the entire group was stoned, especially the teetotalers, and the trek to the cemetery began. everyone was loaded onto two buses, driven by city bus drivers, tommy earl brown and daniel canipe. due to the lack of a hearse (mr. and mrs. hairfield no longer had theirs), mrs. shirley carter and miss jane taylor, local librarians, volunteered their bookmobile to get put out to his final resting place. after all had arrived there, there was a long series of "oohs" and "aahs" over the very commendable hole, personally dug by carl kirksey, president of gravediggers, inc. then reverend wilson gave a bit more rhetoric, and the body was laid to rest. (the coffin was returned to drexel.)

the news media went all out in covering the event. stark & corpening studios were in charge of photographing the affair, and they turned out some excellent color pictures, shot from every angle imaginable, of the corpse just as gangrene was setting in. autographed copies of these will soon be available to the public. sheila diercks and phyllis robinson, though heartbroken over the death of their former boss, were already planning layouts for a souvenir program of the festive occasion. fritz petrie, celebrated texas disc jockey, gave exclusive radio and television coverage to all the goings-on.

a marvelous time was had by all, and all hoped to get together again soon. chances are it won't be too long before they can! mrs. kidd and mr. snyder, both decrepit residents of broughton's senior citizen's award, are declining rapidly, and it looks as if they will soon be joining their beloved colleague in eternity.

so keep the cutting board ready dr. harbison!

john inscoe, prophet

last will and testament

we, the senior class of 1970, do hereby bequeath our varied possessions to our immediate posterity, in the hopes that they will continue to strive and obtain the goals set previously for them by their elders.

article i: to the faculty, administration, and mr. laughinghouse, we leave an expression of gratitude and appreciation for guidance, inspiration, and the unfailing tolerance during high school years.

article ii: to our parents and friends, we leave a deeper gratitude for watching us grow up and for giving us the direction needed to become young adults.

article iii: to the city of morganton, we leave, only to return and prove our individual merits to all.

article iv: to the underclassmen, we leave our love for the alma mater and the knowledge they will soon possess as upperclassmen.

article v: to our heirs, we leave our treasured possessions:

we, helen low, paula gee, steve whisnant, and laura avery, leave for chapel hill and other things.

we, gary caldwell and larry brewer, leave one of our memorable nights at the ponderosa ('til 3 a.m.) to james davis, minnie happoldt, ruth largent or anyone else who can make it to school monday morning.

we, mary caviness and betsy williams, leave our common hospitality to any "put's girl" worthy of the title.

we, lavonda banner, cathy puett, donna ledford, and vicki greene, leave running down the halls of mhs.

i, susan bishop, leave being the only one in step in the mhs band to katrina hicks and jennifer smith.

i, sharon simmons, leave knowing that someday's burand's will be a swinging place when i take over.

we, wendy and billy, connie and bev, myra and henry, leave proudly—for we have lasted longer than any of you ever will!

i, alan brown, leave my insane wit, laughter, and jokes to steve bennett.

i, lynn mcneely, leave my alligator mouth to valerie clark and nella fleming.

i, susan abshire, leave fond memories of asu to the next lonely senior.

we, ann blanton and margaret swingle, leave with luring looks no junior girl will ever have.

i, doug arney, leave my ability to have one - have another, to barry benton, joe brown, bill gamble, tom corley, john cooper, ronald crouch, steve hubbard, allen hollar, steve kincaid, and john nelson, the outstanding lovers.

i, sheila diercks, leave being mhs's one and only "bunny"?!

we, tommy avery, tommy brown, kevin duckworth, steve simpson, and pat edmundson, (the peaceful one), leave our love of "horsing" around in the mhs band to create the beat, to no one, because no one else can quite do that.

i, bob padgett, leave - knowing that someday i will conquer the world (and every girl in it).

i, william black, leave the coolest grin, to john randolph.

we, raymond grubb, robert connelly, greg crisp, tommy jackson, steve whisnant, and hodge phillips, leave our reputation as being big men on campus to phil bounous, scott johnson, larry mcMahon, eddie small, chris petrie, william robertson or tim sigmon.

i, john inscore, leave my love of cows, goldfish, and all mankind to any junior who can prove himself equal.
i, sandy hugh jablonski, leave my captivating curves to ann law.
i, patti tolbert, leave my love of boys and dummies to . . . to anyone who knows what i'm talking about.
i, eric branstrom, leave knowing that the plane and porsche will be mine.
we, cathy brendle and liz harrill, leave the most exquisite wardrobe in the world, to vicki causby, who could also start her own business.
i, curt salthouse, leave, knowing that being a lover, and having a pink bomb go hand in hand.
i, tommy brown, leave chemistry and mr. taylor, to anthony meyers, who can handle them both.
i, barbara clark, leave the most innocent face in the world, to terry arney.
i, janell clark, leave a talent of doing my homework and "checking things out" to kathy brown.
we, danny canipe and andy corpening, leave, knowing that someday the bunny pictures will be ours.
i, mike curlee, leave a love and devotion for wildcats, to next year's wildcat team.
we, david collins, stacy rasnick, and steve dale, leave, knowing that mrs. kidd will never forget . . .
i, shirley england, leave my love for cowboys, to no one, because he's mine.
we, dickie feimster, beth goare, mike hicks, teresa matkins, barbara nelson, karen perkins, mary bowman, norma seagle, (and especially debbie law, steve grigg, and hot hands mike hines), leave mhs knowing that we, in ourselves are the greatest lovers the school has ever known!
we, edward whisnant, ernest mims, and wayne phillips, leave a dead rabbit, an old truck, and a worn path through morganton to tim buff, ken burgess, rex dale, benny kirby, richard jones, jack helton, steve walters, alan wakefield, and eddie seitz.
we, carol fraser, cathy harbison, teresa marshall, vicki sellars, and carol pittman leave our "4.0" average to betty browning, barbara antoni, susan broome, vernetta conley, susan gibbs, and elaine harbison.
i, leonard greene, leave with green chevrolet.
i, mike conley, shall continue searching for the girl.
i, janet greene, pack my basketball and my all-star title in the trunk of the pink bomb: never to return.
we, janice hughes and sandy scruggs hope that all you junior girls get mrs. kidd with a tomato next year.
i, lura kay, better leave before i snow all the junior boys, too!
i, debbie leonard, depart, but not knowing which one to take.
i, fritz petrie leave all my many talents and a bunny key to the alexanders.
i, ann ross, leave to pursue my all-american "red"-blooded profession.
i, ginger allman, leave mhs, still hoping . . .
i, donna whitaker, leave my love of english and junior boys to all sophomore girls.
i, jane taylor, leave to become president of grace hospital.
i, carolyn norman, leave, cutting off my high school childhood and the chickens' beaks.
i, judy hogshead, leave as the smartest person in the honor society (since i won the scholarship), the ability to play a new flute: from the first supersonic woman pilot - to elaine harbison.
we, eric petrie, carl kirksey, and perry lattimore, leave our infamous parties and hootchie kootchie girls (at the funeral home) to all junior boys, who need to learn the call of the wild.
i, tony womack, leave my tricks, which nobody knows about, to anyone else as sneaky to me.
i, florence williams, will sing the lord's prayer one more time before departure.
i, betty singleton, who dodged the draft, leave my long beautiful hair to jack miller, who hasn't much time left.
we, harold smith and billy hoyle, leave the exhaust of our blue camaro and brown chevy, because that's all you ever see of them.
i, mike sperati - leave.
i, bruce braswell, leave the quality of the toughest wildcat to barry blakeley.
i, sandy bryant, leave the capability of giving the best oral book reports to donna bryson, who needs to talk a little more.
i, fred schuszler, leave my copy of the upper room and unlimited patience to buddy drum.
i, james patterson, leave to manage the ponderosa.
i, sandra bristol, leave my blue slips to vicki arney and margaret avery.
i, charles harbison, leave, wondering who will be next.
we, daisy robinson and valerie tate, leave to paint the town red.
i, joe brown, will not leave until i burn down the presbyterian church.
i, lisa pritchard, leave my pickles and tomato juice to janet forrest.
i, paula gee, leave with fond memories (if i can remember).
we, donna hoyle, janice mills, and sandy biggerstaff, leave for love.
i, james tate, finally leave.
i, richard hollifield, leave my love of study, to john finger, jack freeman, dean scott, and thomas walker.
i, ronnie kelly, leave my golf bag and daddy's alcoholic beverage, to coach broome's golf team.
i, tina summers, take my new house and all my belongings, far far away, so that the key club will never find us. i, judy shook, leave my long blond hair, my spriteness at parties, and a certain evil gleam in my eye to sheila woody.
i, william wilson, leave knowing that it is still not too late for you to vote for me.
i, sandy wrye, leave, knowing that after this - johnny!
i, jean williams, leave a hot circle around the patio to suellen cline, donna berry, cathy cline, patsy clontz, katrina hicks, rhonda rockett, brenda rogers, and dinah yount.
we, hazel and harriet peterson, leave as bright young discoveries in the field of modeling.
i, jane tate, ride off from mhs, while the sun sinks slowly in the west.
i, robert chapman, leave my love of mary vann and "which side are you on?" to all rising seniors.
i, mike powell, leave knowing that the drugstore windows are clean.
we, kathy mooney and kathy powell, leave our "quiet mannerisims" to beverly russ, beverly winkler, and judy epley.
we, francis and john baker, leave knowing that the beat goes on.
i, pat lloyd, leave for heaven in puerto rico.
i, phyllis robinson, leave a horn, a kentucky gentleman, a police record, a sandbox, and a fun-loving name: crab - to mary snyder, kathy bingham, judy kirby, and susan rivers.
i, jeff stark, ace-pilot and photographer, leave my police radio, a sand bucket, an unlimited vocabulary, a 24-hour service, a button collection, and a secret life to next year's photographer.
finally, i, sheila diercks, executor of the estate of the class of 1970, do hereby take to the beach to become a crab, because i love them so much.
we, the senior class of morganton, do hereby set our seal to be affixed on this the 2rd day of june, in the year of our lord, nineteen hundred and seventy.

dear no matter where i choose to roam you will always be my home singing praises to the sky for dear old morganton high halls and rooms and faces here and there, looking, glancing, darting as you pass, in quick succession . . .

the years go marching by, a dozen or more games and shouting, echo down the years, cold gray steps that held one spellbound then stage to frame the shaky youthful art of speech or play

band in gay, bright color, noisy blare, the stuff that cheers are made of, or the game;
the first fresh bloom of love, or laughter spent;
the books at dawn, and toiling into dusk a poster here, a yell—a clarion call to cat's tail or to hell with all . . .

friends forever, in memory etched deep the joy of learning, the end the leaving

in memory

benny mcneely

in memory of human companionship . . .
for it has passed away with time.
we remember well when they were here.
there is a memory of feelings and actions;
 they were bright and cheerful like a balmy spring morning.
 they were mysterious but warm like a child kneeling at bedside.
we can remember how life used to be with they who were laughing and talking.
but slowly, for surely they passed this world for a better one.
kind sirs, farewell-perhaps another day.
